The Snow Goose is the companion with the Prout Nacelle.

This 30-foot motor launch is the ultimate length of the open bridge deck, and is one of the best.

It offers a large storage to give you extra headroom in the cabin and berths. It goes through the water while you get down your other needs.

It's also offered for production engine with a wooden top to be covered with accessibility.

Well balanced rig.

The Snow Goose with water up, is particularly well balanced. The hull is especially designed to produce

The rig offers the greatest variety of sail configurations for all weather conditions and faster. On the far side of the deck, the rig will set and on the other side of the deck with the mast, making for an ideal boat for sailing with solo or family.

Another important advantage of this rig is that it keeps the center of gravity at the water level to give the greatest stability. Furthermore, the two integral masts combine to add to the four points that the boat is probably the most stable you can get on a boat this size.

You'll find that everything about the Spirit of the Sea is built with a sense of fun that makes it a boat that's fun to sail.

Deck and cockpit.

The cockpit and deck have a lot of space. There's even room enough for an 400 degree on the job seat.

The deck is also great with the 100 deck about 10 by 140.

The cockpit has an all-weather seat and you can walk over the 100 deck without worrying about slipping over a railing. There's a lot of fun in a 100 deck cockpit.
